Have you ever collected shells? Enjoy this poem about a shell that sings.

Sea Song

I found a shell, a curly one,
Lying on the sand,
I picked it up and took it home,
Cold inside my hand.

Mummy looked at it and then
She held it to my ear,
And from the shell there came a song,
Soft and sweet and clear.

I was surprised – I listened hard,
But it was really true.
I wish you'd find a nice big shell
And hear it singing too!

A LITTLE FISH STORY

There are a great many million fish in the seas, but this story is about just one of them, and a very small one at that.

Now this little fish had everything in the seas to make him contented, but he was not happy. You will laugh when I tell you why he was not. He was unhappy because he was so very small.

“It is very hard to be such a little mite of a fish!” he would say, over and over again. “If I were only larger, how much happier I could be.” And he said it so many times that I think he believed it.

One day he was swimming along with the rest of his school and thinking, no doubt, how much more the larger fish had to be thankful for than he, when suddenly, with no warning, they found themselves in the meshes of a great net.

There was much floundering and splashing as the net was drawn up out of the water into the sunlight, and just as its haul was being emptied into the boat, the smallest fish in the school wriggled through the mesh and slipped back into the cool clear water. How good it felt!

He swam here and there and everywhere, and some of the fish who knew him well all the rest of his life, said that they never again heard him say that he wished to be anything but a little fish.

SUGGESTIONS FOR CLASSROOM TEACHING

- Read the poem aloud.
- Encourage the children to recite the poem with appropriate actions and gestures.
- Help children to find rhyming words and opposites.
- Explain the difficult words in the text.
- Let the children try to say the tongue twister (She sells sea-shells...) aloud as clearly as they can. These and some more like Shoes and socks shock Shyam, Bring back buttons, beans, and buns etc., can be said quite slowly at first and the speed can be increased later.
- Encourage the children to make different sounds.
- The story can be read aloud with expression and gestures. The children can be given ideas and opportunities to express themselves. World building can become an interesting game as children practise correct pronunciation and build up words.
- You can talk about disaster management as in the case of accidents, floods, fire and earthquakes. What are the safety measures to be taken? How can we help victims? Introduce terms like 'tsunami'. Let them talk about stories they have heard about the tsunami, earthquakes etc.
- Ask the children whether they eat fish. Tell them about the different kinds of fish in the sea and other water animals, big and small, and about their life underwater.
- This unit can introduce the important issue of water pollution by man and its harmful effects on sea life.
